DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

FOR PRESIDENT,

MARTIN VAN BUREN.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT,

RICHARD M. JOHNSON.

FROM WASHINGTON.

STENOGRAPHIC GLIMPSES OF CONGRESS.

Washington, February 10, 1836.

Senate. Col. Benton's Resolutions are still the order of the day. Mr Brown finished his speech upon them today. He commenced by paying a few old scores. Alluding to the charge, that "war had been made upon the Senate," he said it was not made by the Executive, but by itself upon itself; they commenced it at the panic session by arraigning the President, and condemning him without hearing or trial. If they had lost their moral influence, it was through their own fault. He spoke next of the lost Bill; of proscription—defending the administration against the charge, and carrying it home to the opposition; alluded to parties in his own State where there were administration majorities, and opposition Postmasters; and asked, in what of the States where his party were in the minority, where they were not proscribed?

Mr Clayton rose, and denied that the minority had been proscribed in his State for twelve years. Mr Porter rose and entered a disclaimer for his State; and Mr Calhoun, being a peripatetic, of course had the floor, and was about to speak; but Mr B. fearing the contagion of example, declined receiving any further disclaimers. Mr C. afterwards entered his disclaimer, and set South Carolina right in Court, and Mr Preston answered very skilfully, and I may say satisfactorily, the charge against the test oath proscription. It was never carried into effect;—either fear or wisdom,—and "fear is the beginning of wisdom,"—prevented it.

Mr B. resumed. He alluded to the Revolutionary patriots, saying that the race had mostly passed away, and that we could not hope to bestow the Presidency again on any of that venerable land. He spoke of he Land Bill—should always vote against it, unless his state instructed otherwise; was in favor of fortifying the country, but not of absorbing all our sesources in this way. He wished that the Senate might be unanimous on this measure, so as to present an unbroken front to the foe, and show them that we were united. He thought the default of the Senate had had a bad effect abroad on our national interest and honor. Our flag and character had hitherto been respected; and he invoked the Senate to preserve them.

Mr Mangum took the floor and explained and disclaimed proscription. Mr Calhoun followed, and said they could not introduce the spoils system into his State. Mr Brown made reclamations on the test oath and nullification; and Mr Preston, as I have said, answered very satisfactorily the test oath anomaly. He said the Legislature was renewed—the law changed—the judges re-appointed—not a hair of their heads touched, (wan't they Wigs?)—and all with the approbation of the whole State. I am happy to record the disclaimer—it is worthy of South Carolina in her best days; and I hope she may live to see better yet—better than her best.

Mr Ewing made the best speech to-day I ever heard, or read, from him; and I must say, it was by far the best that the opposition have made on this subject in either House, this session. It was a thorough, practical, business like speech; and would do honor, as an argument, to any man of either party: and it is the only argument on the opposition side, that I think requires an answer. It was principally an examination into the expenditures of the appropriations, showing that millions of unexpended balances now remained, for want of the physical labor and mechanical skill to work them up; and this, both in the Navy and fortifications. He referred to official reports and documents for his facts; and they bore him out in his positions. He said he should go for the Resolutions if amended. He did not believe there would be a war, but would hear to "no apologies, no! never with his consent." He discussed the difficulties with France in a sensible manner.

Mr Webster made a few remarks urging the passage of the Resolutions.

Mr Wright expressed a wish to speak, before the vote was taken, but was not now prepared. The subject was postponed till to-morrow.

The House debated the Navy appropriations, but took no vote.

REIS EFFENDI.

Extract of a Letter from a young gentleman of Boston, dated Calcutta, September 12, 1835.

I still address you from this remote quarter of the globe, and shall continue to do so, probably for some months to come. It must be acknowledged, however, that a long residence in a Tropical climate is not quite so conducive to health, as our own rugged country, and I am fast losing that relish for an Oriental life, which on my first arrival here, prepossessed me so strongly in its favor. Indeed, to a stranger, Calcutta is a little world of itself. Every thing at first seemed so strange that the novelty alone was enough to keep me constantly excited for a considerable length of time, but now I pass along the streets with as much indifference as an old resident.

I like much to see the world; there are instructive lessons to be learnt in observing the manners and customs of mankind. You can form no idea of the mass of human beings to be met with in Calcutta—and from all portions of the inhabitable globe. An European cannot but be amused to see the various classes, and grotesque appearance of the people around him—here you see them from a state of absolute nakedness, to the richest dress imaginable. The suburbs of Calcutta are very beautiful—delightful gardens are to be met with on all sides. A few days since, I went to visit Baboo Ashootas Day's garden—one of the richest natives in Calcutta. His house is one of the most splendid in India—a perfect Palace, and at the head of the grand Hall is a full length likeness of the immortal Washington. What a sight for an American to behold twelve thousand miles from home. I could have fallen down and worshipped that God-like countenance, but for fear of being accused of "man-worship" I refrained, and stood almost for an hour, gazing at the noble form before me, while my eyes filled with tears, and my thoughts almost instinctively turned towards my "father land"

You cannot imagine how anxious I am to hear from America. How stands the French question? We have London papers to the 15th May, but they give us no information to be relied on in regard to this matter. They state, however, that "Old Ironsides" was off Havre, on a tour of observation, and that France still refused to pay the amount of the Treaty, after she had twice solemnly admitted it was justly due. We hear very little about our country at this place. A few days since, however, I was exceedingly gratified to read our distinguished countryman Livingston's noble letter to the French Minister, written the night previous to his receiving his Passports, and felt proud as an American, to find that his diplomatic correspondence was held in such high estimation that it was published at length in the principal papers in Calcutta. Indeed I am more and more pleased when I reflect on the character and judgment of our venerable President—his wisdom in most of his appointments, both at home and abroad—his Roman firmness—his inflexible determination to protect the honor and maintain the high standing our country now enjoys—all these qualifications he possesses in an eminent degree, and the character of none of our public men, not even Washington himself, is more universally known, or more generally admired the world over, than that of the "Hero of New Orleans."

I had always, as you know, an exalted opinion of the man, and every day of my pilgrimage in this distant part of the world, has served to increase my admiration of his character. No man but him could have carried us safely through the stormy scenes of the few past years, and the French business will only reflect additional lustre on his already glorious administration. From beneath the burning sun of India, where I now write, I invoke for him, and our common country, Heaven's choicest blessings."

INCORRUPTIBLE PORCELAIN TEETH.—C. J. HOUPT respectfully informs the citizens of Boston, that he continues inserting the Porcelain Teeth, at his office, No 27 Merrimack st, or will visit persons at their own residence, and complete any operation in two visits, half an hour each. Having within the last three months given entire satisfaction in upwards of a hundred cases, he is now determined to introduce the operations more generally to the public, confident that the great benefit they will derive from having their teeth replaced in a manner that will almost defy detection, they will not hesitate to embrace the opportunity now offered—and that the price may not deter them, from this date it will be reduced to one half.

Filling and cleaning at the same rate. Dentists supplied with teeth upon reasonable terms. 1y f15

BRITISH COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS, LONDON.

IT has become a duty to acquaint the public that the genuine Improved Hygeian Vegetable Pills which are prescribed in accordance with the doctrines of the British College of Physicians and Surgeons, London, and which are recommended by the writings and practice of Sir Astley Cooper, Mr Abernethy, and the most eminent Physicians and Practitioners of Europe and America, are signed on the outer cover of every package, in the following lawful and particular manner:

JOSEPH RALPH, M. D.—GRADUATE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF EDINBURGH;—MEMBER OF THE ROYAL COLLEGE OF SURGEONS, LONDON;—LECTURER ON MIDWIFERY AND THE DISEASES OF WOMEN AND CHILDREN;—AND AUTHOR OF THE "FAMILY PHYSICIAN, A DOMESTIC GUIDE TO MEDICINE."

(Note. The various documentt, Diplomas and stamped Certificates, which show the connection of the Author with the Institutionsabove mentioned are publicly exhibited at the General Office, Cortland street, N. Y. and may be seen by anfi individual at any time.)

Nothing seems to have afforded more general satisfaction and advantage to society, than having the Hygeian Medicine prescribed and prepared by a regular and practical physician, and one who may at all times be consulted or appealed to, either by post or otherwise, on the subject of its operation and disease. This also is the more appreciated in consequence of the number of different medicines which are daily advertised under various pretences in the name of "Hygeian" and "original Hygeian."

The directions which accompany every package of this Domestic Medicine, are exceedingly plain and particular,—the proper dose and management of the Pills being carefully given under the head of each disorder separately. Those who keep this medicine by them, especially country families, find that nothing is more economical or better adapted for family use, and being free from mercury or any hurtful property, they may always be resorted to with perfect safety. Neither is it too much to state with strict regard to truth, that thousands are indebted to this medicine for the preservation of life and ealth.h

The connection which exists between the organs of digestion and almost all deseases, being the basis of this Domestic Medicine, there is scarcely a disorder incident to human nature in which they are not taken advantageously, but those disorders in which the most remarkable instances of benefit and cures have been experienced are the following:—Bilious disorders, Dyspepsia, affections of the head and nervous complaints, with all those various disorders which originate in hot climates or from costive bowels. Also, Fevers, Inflammation, Gout, Rheumatism, Cutaneous Diseases, Jaundice, Liver Complaint, Scrophula, Coughs which threaten Consumption, and especially Gravel, Gleet, and other weaknesses in the Urinary and Geintal organs.

This Medicine also, in a peculiar manner, is adapted to the disorders of the female constitution, both in early and more advanced periods of life.

ROWLAND'S MACASSAR OIL.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

THE high repute and extensive sale of Rowland's Macassar Oil, throughout the world, has induced speculators to imitate the label—even to forgery, and impose upon the public base imitations, instead of the original.

Also, adventurers to gain a trifle more profit, have introduced into the United States counterfeit imitations, composed of deleterious ingredients, injurious to the hair, to the serious injury of the proprietors and the public.

To prevent such imposition, A. Rowland & Son, respectfully solicit particular attention on purchasing the original Macassar Oil; each bottle is enclosed with a treatise on the hair in an envelope, tastfully executed, with the names of his agents on each pamphlet.

The signature and address is red, on a pattern of lace work, similar to a banker's cheque.

"A Rowland & Son, 20 Hatton Garden,"—countersigned "Alex. Rowland." Also, each bottle has the name and address of the Agent on the label, Mr J. A. DICKSON, Music Saloon, Cornhill, formerly Market street, Boston.

☞ Particular attention to this caution is necessary, as the proprietors cannot be responsible for the serious injury resulting from the use of base imitations.

This Oil is the original and genuine, which has been for many years universally admired, and acknowledged superior to all others. It possesses wonderful properties in restoring the hair on parts of the head that were previously bald, proved by testimonials received from the most distinguished personages in all parts of the globe, and prevents the hair from falling off, or turning gray, to the latest period of life; generates with infancy ample growth of beautiful hair, and will sustain it in perfection through all stages of existence.

Subduing all relaxing tendencies, it firmly keeps the hair in curl and other decorative formation, during many hours, unimpaired by damp weather, crowded assemblies, the dance, or even equestrian exercise.

This incomparable Oil is the friend of both sexes; for, while it facilitates the progres of female beauty, it enhances, by producing whiskers, mustachios, &c. the graces of manhood.

☞ Prices reduced to 62½ cents per single bottle, or in packages of 6 bottles each, for $3 per package,

The Farm-house and Barns are in good order, and there is an abundance of sea manure around the island.

Apply at the Land Office of the East Boston Company, near the Maverick House. WM. FETTYPLACE,

The Piles!

ONE of the best and most thorough remedies known for this troublesome complaint. It has more perfectly answered the purpose for which it is intended than any other now in common use, and affords immediate and permanent relief, both from the disorder itself, and its accompanying symptoms of pain in the loins, vertigo, headache, loss of appetite, indigestion, and other marks of debility.

THE BOSTON MORNING POST.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1836.

GREAT MEETING AT FANEUIL HALL.

The citizens of Boston and vicinity, friendly to the election of MARTIN VAN BUREN to the next Presidency, will hold a convention at Faneuil Hall on Thursday evening, the eighteenth instant, at 7 o'clock, for the purpose of taking such measures as may be deemed advisable to promote the same.

The members of the Legislature and the citizens of the Commonwealth generally, in favor of the above object, are respectfully invited to attend and take part in the convention.

By order of the Committee of Arrangements.
Boston, Feb. 15, 1836.

NOTICE.

The Democratic members of the Legislature are requested to meet at the U. S. District Court Room THIS EVENING, 16th, at 7 o'clock, to see what measures they will take with regard to the nomination of State Officers for the next ensuing political year, and also with regard to the nomination of a ticket for Electors of President and Vice President of the United States.

STENOGRAPHIC GLIMPSES OF CONGRESS.

Washington, February 11, 1836.

The Senate spent the day in debating a bill for the relief of the District of Columbia—that is, to pay about one and a half millions of dollars for her debts, defalcations, and disappointments—a modest proposition, and a moderate sum! From whom is this really due? Partly from the Corporation, for a lottery prize which their agent pocketed, and the ticket holder recovered of them; but principally from speculators, for Chesapeake and Ohio Canal stock. The idea, with some short-sighted people, seems to be to make this city a place of wealth and population. Whenever that day arrives, they will drive Congress from the District, by overawing its deliberations, as they did at Philadelphia. The seat of government must always be opposed to the government, from the nature of its population, necessarily and chiefly composed of adventurers, office-seekers, outcasts of office, and grumblers, spies and traitors, in office; and a horde of malcontents that are always hovering round every administration, organized into a corps; a forlorn hope—and opposing all. God forbid, for the safety of the government, that it should itself make the city either wealthy or populous—and there is no other means by which it can be effected—for trade and commerce are out of the question;—there are ten thousand places in the country possessing far superior advantages in these respects. I never wish to see a city that shall legislate for Congress. It is almost as much as a man's reputation is worth to be on the Committee of the District—those who look or can best see how the game is played. He is assailed, like the unjust judge in the evangelist, constrained to grant the widow's suit,—lest, by her continual coming, he should be wearied. While there is a dollar in the Treasury, this District will not be without an application for it. If you grant money to them in one case, they will claim it in every case and every shape; and point to your precedents both as the proof of your authority and their right.

But a word, as to the influence of large cities. Boston has legislated, time immemorial, for the State; and the capitol will yet have to be removed to Worcester. Albany is already too large for the seat of government; and Pennsylvania has done wisely to remove her's to an inland city.

To return to the relief bill. Mr Tyler supported it, on the absurd ground, that as Congress had subscribed a million to the Canal, (at the instance, certainly, of the corporation,) and had permitted the city, at her own request to obtain a loan of Holland, it was morally and equitably bound to pay all the debts, because it was the cause of obtaining the credit! If you help me to a thousand dollars, and I speculate, and lose ten, you are bound to pay it, because you enabled me to make the bad speculation! By the way, the bill did not provide for the transfer of the canal stock to secure the money. No! The stockholders were to have all their debts paid, and keep their effects!

Mr Clay was disposed to relieve the corporation, but thought there should be some equivalent for the grant; that the canal stock should be at least transferred. Unless this were done, he thought the bill would not find support in the Senate.

Mr Tyler renewed his sophistry. Colonel Benton opposed it. Mr Southard very promptly offered an amendment, to transfer the stock to the Treasury. Mr Shepley opposed this, as making the government toll-gatherer to canals. Mr Porter thought the stock should be transferred, and sold in a year. Mr Niles concurred in Mr Shepley's views. Mr Davis and others opposed the bill.—I did not learn its fate.*

It can't pass the other House—I will answer for them.

Mr Wright having yielded the floor to-day, Col, Benton's Resolutions were postponed to Monday, when he will have the floor to answer Mr Ewing.

The House debated the Naval appropriations. Mr Pearce, of R. I., I am told, made an able speech—if he made any, I know it was able. Mr Cushing made a speech, and had a 'bout with Mr Harden, (in reply to his quoting Homer to Mr C.) telling him "that he was neither an Achilles in courage, a Ulysses in wisdom, nor a Nestor in counsel, but a Thyrsites in disposition." A man in the Ladies gallery applauded without gloves! I clapped him on the shoulder, and "told him to comfort him," as dame Quickly says, he should not applaud. Mr Hannegan moved to have the gallery cleared, but said he should not embrace the ladies!

Thyrsites was for once put down by a gentleman!—He might well exclaim with Macbeth—"Take any shape, but that!"

REIS EFFENDI.

*Re-committed to District Committee.

Side-walks—Side-walks—Side-walks.—We receive something less than a dozen communications per day, during the winter season, calling upon the City Marshal to see that the side-walks are kept clear from snow and ice. Now if our correspondents would only complain of those who neglect to obey the law in that respect, instead of bothering us, their efforts to remedy the evils which agrieve them would be much more effectual.

LATE AND IMPORTANT FROM EUROPE.

By the packet ships Rhone, Capt. Lines, from Havre, and the St. Andrew, Capt. Taubman, from Liverpool, at New York, Paris papers to the evening of Jan. 7th, Havre of the 8th, London to the 7th and Liverpool to the 8th, inclusive, have been received.

FRANCE.—The President's Message reached Havre on the 1st Jan., by the Charlemagne, and was carried thence to Paris by Express in 12 1-2 hours; but it had already reached there by way of England. It was received with general satisfaction, and it was supposed the Indemnity Money would be paid, on the strength of the Message, without waiting for the result of the mediation. This opinion is rather countenanced than otherwise, by the following clause in the Address of the Chamber of Peers, adopted by a vote of 99 to 8:—

"Your Majesty has accepted the amicable mediation proffered by the King of Great Britain relative to the difficulties which impede the execution of the treaty with the United States of America. Your Majesty has also manifested the uprightness of your policy, and you have expressed your desire to see these differences brought to a close in a manner consistent with the honor of two great nations. An important document recently published induces a hope that this desire will be speedily gratified."

M. Dupin has been re-elected President of the Chamber of Deputies. He received 165 votes, against 34 for M. Lafitte, 34 for M. Sauzet, and 14 scattering.

On the 1st of January, the principal officers of the French government, and also the Ministers of foreign Courts, paid their addresses to the King, and were severally honored with a brief reply.

Paris Jan. 3.—Yesterday the Minister of Foreign Affairs, President of the Council, informed the President of the Chamber of Deputies that he held at the disposal of the Commission, the documents which he should be able to furnish on the American question.

Spirit of the Parisian Journals.—The Journal Des Debats says—As far as France is concerned, this document is all moderation. Throughout the whole of it there appears a feeling of high consideration for this country.

The Courrier Francais says, that in reckoning upon the good sense and moderation of the American people, it was not deceived; all the ideas of obstinacy attached to General Jackson, as an old soldier, have been falsified, and he has put the question between France and his own country in the way of conciliation rather than of hostility. After the praiseworthy circumspection to be observed in the President's speech, the most striking circumstances which it developes is the blame, that ought to attach to the French Ministers.

The Impartial makes nearly similar observations upon the subject.

The Temps looks upon the President's Speech to Congress as setting the question at rest; and whether the President complains that the French Ministers have been guilty of ignorance, or they in their turn declare that they have been badly understood, France as a country has nothing more to do with the matter.

The Messager observes upon the President's Speech, that a war is now impossible with America, and that his language leaves no hold for even the most restless susceptibility to take offence.

The Quotidienne expresses its conviction that the effect of the mediation of England will be to accept the message of General Jackson as a full measure of satisfaction to the French Government.

ENGLAND.—The sales of cotton at Liverpool from Friday, Jan. 2nd, to Thursday the 7th, amounted to 20,000 bales; at an advance of 1-8d per pound; sales on the 7th, 3500 bags.

The aggregate result of the election of Councellors under the new Municipal Reform Bill, is—Reformers 1685, Tories 421. Majority of Reformers, 1264.

The official account of the revenue ending Jan. 5th, shows an amount of £11,572,528; being an increase of £172,967, upon the corresponding quarter of the previous year. The revenue of the whole year ending Jan. 5th, 1836, was £42,430,207; being a decrease of £613,669; which is less than the amount of taxes repealed.

Geo Thompson had arrived at Liverpool, and was to give a public account of his labors in this country, and the reception he met with.

London, Jan. 4th.—A general belief exists in the City that the French government is satisfied with the American President's Message, and that no hostile measures of any kind are likely to be resorted to.

The affairs of Spain are taking a favorable turn. Mina has captured Camalot, one of the most active of the Carlist chiefs. The opinion was that he would have him shot, as a rebel. Mendezabel appears advancing steadily, in public confidence. He promises to finish the war without a foreign loan.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 7.—Yesterday there was a very animated demand for Cotton, which was met freely by holders at full prices, and upwards of 8000 bales were sold, chiefly to the trade. To-day the inquiry has been more moderate yet without change, the sales being estimated at 3,500 bales.

Liverpool, Jan. 7.—The year opens with prospects favorable for commerce; there is a buoyance in the leading articles of import. An improvement in price seems not improbable.

SALES AT HAVRE, Jan. 7th—271 bales Louisiana Cotton at 140f; 225 do Georgia at 117f 50 a 134f 50; 278 bags Hayti Coffee at 70 in bond, 265 tierces Rice at 27f 50 a 28 free, 14 mill Whalebone at 2f.

☞We announced a few days since, the arrival at New York, of the ship Falmouth, of Salem, in charge of Midshipmen Dove, of the Navy, under whose command she was placed by the U. S. Consul at Lisbon, who sent home her captain, Samuel Harvey, under arrest, charged with the murder of one of his crew. The deposition of the first and second mates of the Falmouth, taken since their arrival in New York, state—

"That on the 5th of October last, whilst she was on her passage from Smyrna to New York, Richard Good, who was Cook, and Steward of the vessel, was in the cabin with the Captain, no other person being present,—that the deponents heard the report of a pistol in the cabin, and immediately after, Good crawled up out of the cabin with his lower jaw shot away. The captain came on deck immediately after him, and saw one of the hands endeavoring to assist the wounded man, and ordered him either to tie Good or cast him overboard, for that he had attempted to stab him. Good was then removed to a birth in the forecastle, where he lingered from the 5th to the 16th, during which time the captain prevented him getting any nourishment; for want of which, or from the effects of his wound, or both combined, he died on the 11th day after he was wounded. After this the Falmouth was obliged to put into Lisbon from stress of weather."

☞Another statement says that Capt. Harvey returned voluntarily, and delivered himself up to the Marshal of the District, having, as he says, shot the man in self defence.

The Boston Brass Band, in testimony of their respect for their talented leader, Mr Edward Kendall, presented him, on Saturday, with an elegant E flat bugle, manufactured expressly for them by Mr Henry Sibley, one of their members. The gift is very appropriate, and does credit to the kind feelings of the donors. This is probably the first instrument of the kind ever made in America. It may be seen at Bigelow's watch and jewelry store, corner of State and Washington streets, for a short time.

Snooks often says a good thing. Bass was telling him of his having picked up a lady who had accidentally slipped on the ice, and describing her, as being very beautiful. MASSACHUSETTS LEGISLATURE.

In the Senate, Monday, Feb. 15.—Mr Sturgis presented the several petitions of the Adams, Wrentham, Bristol County, Cohasset, Phœnix and Merrimac Banks, for increase of capital: read and laid upon the table.

In the House.—A Bill was reported, and passed to a second reading, without remark or comment, allowing parties to make contracts at any rate of interest, which they may agree on. The legal interest is to remain at six per cent., where there is no agreement to the contrary. Bank and other Corporations are restricted to the present six per cent.

The Bill for enlarging the Jail limits on contracts made prior to 1834, was indefinitely postponed by a vote of 228 to 147. Nearly two hours of the session was occupied by the lawyers in replying to some aspersions on the legal profession thrown out by Mr Williams on Saturday. Mr Foster, of Brimfield, opposed the bill on the ground of its being ex post facto in effect. He expressed himself indignantly at the presumption of His Excellency, in pressing his opinion upon the Legislature upon a subject with which he was unacquainted, and intimated that he was inexperienced in the interests of the State. He also indirectly alluded to John Quincy Adams, by ridiculing the expression of "sentiment personified," as used by that gentleman in the present Session. In the course of his remarks, he several times repeated the words "poor debtor!" "poor debtor!" in bitter and sneering tones. After the question of indefinite postponement was carried, the Speaker administered a pointed rebuke to those members who had displayed so much personality in the debate.

☞A letter was received in this city yesterday, from the Messrs Welles, of Paris, in which it is stated that a meeting of the French Cabinet had been held, at which it was decided to accept the President's Message as the explanation demanded by the Chamber, and that the Indemnity should be forthwith paid. The letter also states, as we learn, that the English Minister had been informed that there would be no farther occasion for the mediation of his Government, as the difficulty was, in fact, settled.

Bribery.—The following extract is copied from the Pennsylvanian:

We learn, by a letter from Harrisburg, dated Feb. 9, the Senator referred to above, is Col. JACOB KREBS, of Schuylkill county—"faithful found among the faithless." An offer was made to him of four thousand dollars, if he would vote for the bill to re-charter the United States Bank, to be increased, in the event of a certain contingency (the sale of property) to five thousand dollars! He patriotically and indignantly rejected the base proposition.

After the bill was brought into the Senate, Colonel Krebs was told that if he voted for it, he should be made independent, and that arrangements should be made by which he would obtain TWENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS for his vote, within two weeks after the bill should become a law!

"I told the individual," says this incorruptible patriot, "that poor as I am, the Bank of the United States has not sufficient money to purchase me!"

"Thus," observes our correspondent, "it has come to light that bribes have been offered to a Senator of Pennsyvania to vote for this monied monopoly, in opposition to the will of the people! Thanks to his noble firmness, he scorned the bribe and the miscreant who offered it!"

Now what say the people? What course will they pursue when practices like this are employed against them? Will they tamely submit, or arise as one man against their betrayers?

In the afternoon of the day on which this charge was made in a Harrisburg paper, Col. KREBS rose in his place in the Senate, and said—

"That on the 28th or 29th of January last, James L. Dunn had called on him, and told him, he (Mr D.) owned certain lands in Schuylkill county, which would advance in price, if this bill passed. They would sell for $8000, and if he (Krebs) voted for the bill, he should have one half. If the land brought $10,000 he should have still half. Krebs told Dunn he would not vote for the bill for $20,000.

About the 1st of February, Henry L. Conrad had told Krebs that it would be worth $20,000 to him if he would vote for the bill, and that Burd Patterson was authorized to make arrangements for his receiving that sum in two weeks after the bill should become a law."

A committee was then appointed to investigate the affair, with power to send for persons and papers, and no further action was to be had on the bill until the report of the committee was made.

The Moon.—There is no mistake about it—the moon is inhabited—but whether its denizens have wings instead of arms, we cannot exactly decide at this moment. M. Gruithausen, and M. Schrœter, of Munich, have, after many observations come to the following conclusions:—

First, that the vegetation on the surface of the moon extends to 55° S. lat., and 65° N. lat.; secondly, that from the 50th degree of N. lat. to the 47th of S. lat., they recognize evident traces of the abode of animated beings. They repeat that which M. Gruithausen formerly asserted, that they perceive high roads in various directions, and have further discovered a colossal edifice, nearly under the equator of our satellite. At this place there is an appearance of a considerable city, near to which they are perfectly assured of the existence of a construction similar to that called in fortifications a horn-work.

The Bank Commissioners of Maine, in their Report to the Legislature say:

"The law restricting Banks from issuing or receiving bills of the denomination of one dollar, we have reason to believe has been rigidly observed: nearly four fifths of the entire amount of bills of that denomination have been taken out of circulation, and are now in their vaults. Still the design of this law has been in a great measure frustrated by the course pursuedby th e Banks of New Hampshire and Mass.—a large amount of their small bills have been sent into this State, and as the Banks are prohibited from receiving them, they find here a permanent circulation, and are consequently entailing upon our citizens the evils which the law was intended to guard against. * * * *

On the whole, we found the Banks in a prosperous condition, doing a profitable business, and with a single exception, [the Bangor Commercial Bank, which exceeded it lawful loan] governing themselves in the transaction of their business in conformity with the law and the provisions of their respective charters."

The Washington Correspondent of the Journal of Commerce, under date of the 11th inst. says—

By the Southern Mail of this city, we find that the Expunging Resolutions have passed the House of Delegates of Virginia, by a respectable majority, [sixteen] and further information says they will pass the Senate in a few days.

This was certainly not expected by the Whigs.

Governor Tazewell said he would resign before he would send the directions to the Senate; and hence an amendment was attached, requesting their Representatives in Congress to lay them before that body.

A fellow in Bangor, the other day, lost $500 in a bet upon a horse race, on the ice. He intends to try it again, against another nag, for $700, and wants to bond the wager.

The Tattooed Man.—A fine lithographic print of James O'Connell, the tattooed man, who is now exhibiting himself at the N. E. Museum, has just been issued from Pendleton's press.

THE SOUTHERN MAIL

Arrived about 10 o'clock last evening. In the evening edition of the Journal of Commerce of Saturday, we find the following important intelligence:—

"The finale of the French War.—Rothschild has informed his correspondents in this country that the Government of France had notified that of England that they were now ready to fulfil all the conditions of the treaty of July 4th, 1831, without farther delay.—The letters were received by the St. Andrew."

The United States Branch Bank was sold in New York on Saturday, for $189,500, and was purchased on account of the merchants, for the purpose of being offered to the Government as a Post Office. About one hundred firms have subscribed each $5000 for the accomplishment of this object. The lot is 75 feet on Wall street, and 120 feet deep.

No important business was transacted in either House of Congress, on Friday.

A letter from Tampa Bay, dated 16th ult., says—We are cut off from all communication with the rest of the world, being surrounded by about 4000 hostile Indians. We are well fortified, having three twelve pounders and about 200 men completely armed. We have about 150 friendly Indians, who bring in prisoners daily.

Tom and Jerry was done up most elegantly, before a large audience, at the Tremont, last night. The sparring between the 'Phenomenon' and the 'Earthquake' was very striking, and received loud applause. The piece will be repeated this evening. We have had nothing equal to it before, for flash and frolic, in any of our theatres.

Among the passengers in the Packet ship St. Andrew, is F. Frecker, Esq., bearer of despatches from the British government, supposed to relate to the mediation between the United States and France. He proceeded immediately to Washington.

Modest Demand.—Don Carlos, who has been carrying on a civil war in Spain, for a long time, says if that government will pension him with $200,000 a year, for cutting as many of its citizens throats, he will retire to the United States, and be quiet in future!

Corrected Proofs, by H. Hastings Weld, is the title of a volume published on Friday, by Russell, Shattuck & Co., and a most agreeable work it is. Mr Weld has long been distinguished for his wit and humor as a writer, and has here preserved some of the most valuable and agreeable of his productions.

They must be a hungry set of fellows in Bangor.—The Advertiser, speaking of the late conflagration in that place, says—

"Some people went to the fire evidently on purpose to see what they could find to eat, for all they were seen to do, was to devour all the cooked provisions they could find."

The Steamboat Pioneer, burst her boiler at Lowder's Bluff, Georgia, on the 31st ult., by which ten or twelve lives were lost, and two tow boats, with their freight, sunk.

A dwarf Horse, of the Indian or Pampas breed, has been imported into New York from Buenos Ayres—he is only 36 inches in heighth.

☞We are requested to state that all the stages leaving Worcester, regularly call at the Worcester House for passengers.

The ice boat Relief, in Baltimore harbor, is doing wonders—she cuts her way through ice several feet thick, just as if "nothing had happened."

The Faneuil Hall Meeting.—The Concord Freeman publishes the notice for the Van Buren meeting in Faneuil Hall, the 18th. The object of that meeting we understand, is to bring together all the friends of the election of Mr Van Buren, not for the purpose of any nomination of electors, but to give a concentration and impulse to public sentiment. There should be but one object in that meeting, to show the union of the friends of Mr Van Buren and their determined resolution to carry the State on the side of democracy next fall. To all who feel thus, the language of the call is, "come one, come all." We hope the friends of the cause in the neighboring towns will be there. Let it be what our revolutionary fathers used to call a general town meeting.—Boston Advocate.

A firemen's benefit ball took place at the Eagle street Theatre, Buffalo, Feb. 1st. Such a magnificent display never before was seen in the young metropolis of the lakes—fully equal to any thing in the old Atlantic cities in point of splendor and beauty—chalked floors, pendant streamers and banners, female beauty, orchestral music, the dance and waltz, the insignia of the firemen hung round, &c. A splendid silk banner was presented to the chief engineer of the six companies. The benefit yielded $1000.—N. Y. Star.

U. S. Bank.—The Pennsylvanian of yesterday morning, gives the proceedings of the Senate of that State relative to the U. S. Bank down to Thursday evening. The first five sections, with some unimportant amendments, had been gone through with and agreed to. A motion to give the Legislature power to amend or repeal the Charter, was rejected by a vote of 21 to 12. The only anxiety now felt by the friends of the Bank, is a fear that the Bill will be vetoed by Governor Ritner. A rumor to this effect was current in Wall street yesterday, and knocked down the stock 2 or 3 per cent.—Jour. Com.

Ancestors.—The number of ancestors a person has is astonishing at first sight; at first two parents; in the second four, the parents of his father and mother; in the third eight, the parents of his two grandfathers and two grandmothers; by the same rate of progression, 1,024 in the tenth; and at the twentieth degree, or at the distance of twenty generations, every person has above 1,000,000 ancestors, as common arithmetic will demonstrate.

Fire.—Craige's mills in the town of Oxford (Maine,) consisting of a four story factory, a saw mill, and two or three other buildings, were burnt down on the 31st ult.—Loss from 6 to 8000 dollars, upon which there was no insurance. The principal sufferers were S. H. & A. King, Jarius S. Keith and A. G. Forbes.

Boston Offices.—We understand that the Boston Offices have all paid their losses by the great fire, with the utmost promptness. They, or some of them at least, authorised drafts immediately after the fire for a large portion of the amount lost, and the balances have been paid immediately on making up the proofs.—Jour. Com.

The vine bears three grapes—the first of pleasure, the second of drunkenness, the third of repentance.—Anacharsis.

Columbia, S. C. Feb. 5.—Gen. Winfield Scott of the United States Army, and his aids passed through this place on Friday last on their way to Florida, the seat of war.

We'll have a little reason after tea.

THE RESPONSE.

What do I hear? you've lost your wits this season;
What! reason after t—why, that is treason!

Boston, Feb. 13, 1836.

To Dr WILLIAMS, Oculist, Boston:

It is impossible for me to be silent while so many others are expressing to you, sir, their gratitude for the benefits they have received since your arrival in Boston. I have been afflicted for many years with a weakness and shortness of sight, and a remarkable dullness in the appearance of the exterior or balls of the eyes, which gave them the appearance of those of one whose health was supposed to be in the last extremity—that caused me sometimes to suppose I should become blind.

The state of my eye is wonderfully changed. I can now see to do things with pleasure, that it was impossible, formerly, to do without a great deal of pain.

As you are, sir, a friend to suffering humanity, of which you give so many proofs every day, I hope you will continue in this city a few months longer, that myself, and all others who may need your assistance, may not fail to obtain it.

In that hope, I remain, sir,
Your greatly obliged servant,
EUPHAMA WAUGH,
At Mrs Smith's, 42 Salem street.

AT A MEETING of the "UNITED BENEVOLENT SOCIETY OF JOURNEYMEN TAILORS" of Boston, held on the 2d inst, the following Preamble and Resolutions were adopted:
Whereas, we have associated ourselves for the purpose of relieving our mutual misfortunes:
And whereas, it adds much to the calls upon our Society to have its members discharged from their employment in the middle of winter, to make room for girls—and that, too, without fault;
And whereas, the public are induced to suppose that many firms in this city permanently employ men—instead of which they only do so occasionally, therefore
Resolved, That we will publish in the papers, a list of the names of the proprietors of tailoring establishments who are in the constant habit of employing men, that the public may know at what shops their work will be done in a thorough and workmanlike manner.

Each bolt to contain 40 yards, and to be twenty inches in width, and the whole to be manufactured from the best quality of water rotted flax, well hatchelled, and free from tow. The yarn must be freed from mucilage before it is woven, by boiling it in weak alkaline ley, and the whole must be woven without starch or sizing. Each bolt must have a blue thread at such distance from each selvage, as may hereafter be directed by the Navy Commissioners.
Samples will be lodged by the Navy Commissioners at the Navy Yards at Charlestown, Brooklyn and Gosport, to which the deliverers must conform in strength and quality.
The numbers 1 and 2 are to be woven from double threaded yarn, slightly twisted; number 4 must have the warp of double threaded yarn, and the filling of single threads. Numbers 6, 7 and 8, to be of single threads.
The whole to be conformable to the samples, and subject to such inspection and tests as the Commissioners of the Navy may direct, and be entirely satisfactory to the Commandants of the Navy Yards at the respective places of delivery. One half of each quantity must be delivered at each of the respective Navy Yards, at Charlestown, Massachusetts, and Gosport, Virginia—and at least one half of each number of the Canvass must be delivered on or before the first day of August, and the remainder on or before the first day of October next—beyond which no extension of time for completing the contract will be granted.
No payment will be made for a less quantity than one hundred bolts; nor then, until twenty days after the canvass shall have passed inspection, and the bills for the same be duly approved by the Commandants of the Yards.
Ten per centum to be retained by the United States on the amount of all deliveries for which bills may be approved, until the final completion of the contract, as security in addition to the bond which will be required; and to be forfeited to the United States, in case of a failure to perform the contract according to all its stipulations.
Separate proposals to be made for the quantity required at each yard, and the price asked per bolt must be stated in words at length. 2awiP&Stmar1 f10

ADAMS'S PATENT

THE subscriber has on hand a good assortment of the Swelled Beam Windlass Bedsteads, which, for comfort and convenience is undoubtedly the best article yet invented; its chief peculiarity is that of the Swelled Beam, the effect of which is to produce a crowning, and elastic sacking, and effectually provides against its saging. They are easily set up or taken down, and may be saved in case of fire as easily as any other piece of furniture, and from its mode of construction less liable to harbor insects than any other kind; but above all its advantages is the ease and comfort obtained from the sacking, by means of its being made and kept elastic by means of the Swelled Beam, (the form of which is exhibited in the above cut.)
Orders thankfully received, and promptly attended to
